

Edmonton Letter

(T. B. Windsor)
Edmonton, June 8th.—The King and Queen have seen Alberta, and have been very well received by hundreds of thousands of Albertans. They have gone again, but they have left behind a healthier feeling in this province, a healthier respect for the British crown and the established institutions of democracy as understood in the British Empire, and a healthier understanding of what the relations of the empire and the dominions of Canada mean to this one province.

It was a personal triumph for the handsome, strong young King and for the beautiful charming Queen. Even more than in Calgary a week before, the crowds went wild in acclaiming Their Majesties. In fact, the crowds gathered from every section of central Alberta and many of them from the south as well, packed into the one street leading from the Macdonald Hotel to the station to hail them as the King and Queen stood on the balcony of the hotel, and refused by their cheers for ten minutes, not to disappear from sight. In the royal progress during the afternoon, 200,000 persons lined the route.

It was the answer to politicians who have wondered whether Alberta would adhere to the crown and to the government institutions of the empire, as the most spectacular reception Their Majesties have received anywhere in Canada.

The members of the legislative assembly were invited to be present to the King and Queen at the Legislative Buildings and to attend the government dinner in the evening. The King and Queen had tea privately with the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Brown at the buildings, and walked with them at the railway station and at the hotel, but Premier Aberhart had the honor of being "host" at the government dinner.

Little Marie Stacey, resident of a charity institution in the city, presented the bouquet of roses to the Queen.

She did it beautifully. Men and women who have been traveling with the King and Queen throughout the tour said it was the most dramatic incident they had seen anywhere when the little girl from the orphanage handed the presentation to Her Majesty the Queen.

The proposition of the federal parliament Saturday night marked the passage of a piece of legislation designed to ease private mortgage debt in Alberta, as well as in other provinces (providing the Alberta government does not attempt to forestall its operation in this province).

The dominion government's new act establishes the central mortgage bank; instead of trying to put all the burden on the creditors and so playing for "debtors" votes, the new government is shouldering between 40 million and 50 million of the cost. The act, which is to help many thousands of farmers and urban dwellers whose properties are mortgaged to major classes of firms, provides that interest arrears more than two years old are to be wiped out; that arrears of five years are to be added to the principal, and that the total then is not to exceed 50 per cent of the appraised value of the property; and that, in the case of farm properties, the new arrangement is to extend for 20 years at not more than five per cent interest.

Even mortgagors who are not affected directly by the act, because their mortgages are by private individuals or others not included, are interested.

Marking its 17th anniversary, The Financial News of Vancouver has issued a 50 page special supplement to its regular issue of May 26th.

Reviewing in detail the progress of individual western mining and oil companies during the past year and including, as well, sections relating to the lumber, fishing and manufacturing industries, this year's special number of The Financial News has broadened its scope considerably. Included in this issue is a considerable amount of information concerning Alberta.

Printed on book paper and copiously illustrated, the edition should be especially useful in comparing the progress of western mining and oil companies elsewhere a comprehensive review of the resources and the recent progress of Western Canada.

INDUCTION OF REV. FATHER ROULEAU TO SACRED HEART CHURCH STRATHMORE

The formal induction of the Rev. F. Rouleau to his new parish of the Sacred Heart, Strathmore, and Albert St. Philip, Carleton Place, at Strathmore, on Sunday evening, June 4th.

The Most Rev. Francis P. Carroll, Bishop of Calgary, was represented by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor A. J. Hetherington, and the Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, who was the newly appointed pastor made his solemn profession of faith. Prior to this, the Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, who was the newly appointed pastor made his solemn profession of faith.

In addressing the congregation, Mr. Hetherington touching upon their cheer for ten minutes, not to disappear from sight. In the royal progress during the afternoon, 200,000 persons lined the route.

NEW BUILDING OF COLD STORAGE PLANT TAKING SHAPE

The sound of the hammer and the pull of the tractor and combine and no more will revert the wheels of progress. The Plant of the Cold Storage Ltd., now being erected in Strathmore is one more feature along the line of progress and modern development.

This plant will bring extra business to our town and place Strathmore in the fore front of wide awake towns is unquestioned.

Just about a year ago now Hughes Motors made a large and modern addition to their establishment. During the year Arthur Lambert has added a very attractive Ice Cream Counter to the store, to be followed later by Mr. Hansen doing likewise. W. J. Weaver has enlarged the office and work shop of his garage and given the touch that a coat of fresh paint alone can achieve.

The Wheatland School Office is an inviting addition to Main Street, while the interior of the King Edward Hotel and Restaurant has been brightened by renewed paint and attractive fixtures. We hear of still further improvements that are being planned for this summer.

Presentation to Mr. G. H. Patrick, Director, and Miss Violet Hyde, Pianist, in Operetta "The Soldier's Sweetheart"

A genuine surprise party was arranged Tuesday evening when the guests of the operetta, "The Soldier's Sweetheart," recently given so successfully in the Memorial Hall, journeyed en masse to the home of the Director and Miss Violet Hyde to express their appreciation of his untiring efforts in connection with the direction of the Opera.

The party assembled at the Hiltz home and armed with baskets of choice viands they marched to the attractive home known as Astorwood Cottage, which they invaded cheerfully but possessively.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick were totally unaware of any such project, having been planned, however a few explanations soon reassured them that the party was not a malignant one, and that they only desired to honor to those to whom it was due, viz. Mr. Patrick for his able directing and accompanying.

Miss Violet Hyde for her skillful accompanying.

TAX RATE SET AT 28 MILLS

Council Spends Busy Evening

Word was received at Magrath from Philadelphia last week that three carloads of machinery were en route to the town for its new wooden mill.

Wheat Farmers
The British wheat farmer is guaranteed a price of approximately $1.32 a bushel for home-grown wheat. The wheat is sold throughout the year at current market prices and deliveries are made during the crop year end. The amount which will be paid on July 21, 1939, according to the British Food Council, will be about $15 million. The Council says if assistance for the home grower had been sought by means of a policy of forcing up the price of wheat through a restriction of imports, the cost to the British consumer would be about $195 million above $20 million cost of wheat were harvested in Britain in 1938.

SEVEN MILLION RAILROAD TIES
Seven million railroad ties will be required on the Canadian National Railways during 1939. If placed end to end they would make a continuous line 15,000 miles long!

ENGAGEMENTS ANNOUNCED
Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Freeman announce the engagement of their son and daughter Margaret to Mr. John Oshman, the wedding to take place in Strathmore in the near future.

Hervey
Someone has been repairing the road running south from Hervey to the Auto Road. This is a great improvement.

Harrison Knapp has been helping Leslie Campbell for some time past.

The Hissman Family spent a pleasant time with Mr. and Mrs. Halbert at the Hervey Tea-Party June 4th. Most guests were very appreciative.

Miss Lily Hulbert has been a guest of her brother for the week.

The Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. Laycraft last week with an attendance of 22 ladies and 9 children. It was an ideal day and in addition to the business transacted every one enjoyed their outing in the country.

Miss Baraband and son Andy have been staying with the Hissmans for several days.

Rockyford
Rockyford had the excitement of a school trustees election on Wednesday May 24th when two names were nominated for the position vacated by Mr. George Thibon on his moving to Keldeer. In the past few years all trustees had gone in by acclamation and when an election was really announced the voters had to shake themselves out of their accustomed calm and betake themselves to the polls.

The names of Mr. E. Roberts and Mr. Geo. Johnston both claimed victory but the final count showed that Mr. Johnston would have the worries of a school trustee on his shoulders for another 3 years as having been elected to the office of the Rockyford Public School trustees.

The Senior Baseball team of Rockyford played their second game of the season at the home of the team.

Last night a storm fell on the world from heights of drought and heat. The early clouds for weeks were furled, The air could only sway and beat.

The beetles clattered at the blind, The hawks felt swarming from the sky The wet unrolled a featherly wind, And the night fell suitably.

The storm leaped roaring from his lair, Like the shadow of doom, The poignant lightning scorched the air, The thunder ripped the shattered gloom.

The rain came down with a roar like fire, Full voiced and clamorous and deep, The weary world had its heart desire, And fell asleep.

Director—The Crop Testing Plan

The time for summerfallowing, that most essential operation of Western agriculture, is with us again.

Summerfallowing is an ancient practice. In most countries it is practiced only to destroy weeds, for weeds usually are a most effective means of depriving the soil of precious moisture, and so of causing a heavy loss in crop yield. In Western Canada, however, summerfallowing is usually done for an even more important reason, which is to conserve an extra year's supply of moisture, and so to gain a better assurance of a crop the following year.

Records reveal that the best rains in our Prairie Provinces fell as a rule early in June. The earlier, therefore, that summerfallowing can be done, obviously the more moisture will be conserved, and also of course, early cultivation means that less weed will grow.

Ploughing, unfortunately, while it kills weeds, is a great dissipator of moisture. Wherever it is possible, therefore, surface cultivation only of the summerfallow, either with the one way disc, or the duckfoot cultivator should be done, for this method will conserve more moisture than ploughing. If, however, a field is infested with well rooted perennials, then the plough may have to be used, but general ploughing should be avoided if at all possible.

DOIN' THE WORLD FAIR, N. Y.

(Byron M. Fisher)

One feature of the exhibit in question impressed us particularly. This was a display showing how, by careful experiment, a completely new line of nutrients suitable for the growing child between the infancy period and adolescence had been obtained. The process used in reaching the proportions believed to require a properly balanced diet for children of these ages were graphically illustrated. Perhaps we were most interested because they were the only foods in the building we weren't asked to try before we left. If memory is right, some 57 varieties were projected into our gazing mass, and although we no doubt had a well fed look, we felt more like a walking sample case. It's what happens to you when you can't reduce anything free.

We haven't had time for a very close examination of the amusement area, but a puppet show in a corner exhibit provided plenty of entertainment for an hour or so. With the cartoon character that dominates the firm's advertising as master of ceremonies, a complete night club show was produced by puppets, with everything from the slapstick policeman whose hat bounces from his head in surprise, to the choruses and the featured dancer and colored artist. The music and singing were really good, too. We were informed that the sound effects were recorded, but that all the puppets were manipulated by three professionals, which makes the show the more amazing.

Many other exhibits are still unfinished, particularly in the Foreign Zone, and the buildings are closed to the public. It's believed that the Fair will be practically in full swing within the next week or ten days.

One of the most educational and unique collections of exhibits we have yet seen is that housed in the hand-drawn United States Federal Building, fronting the Court of Peace. Diagrams, three dimensional projected photos, diagrams, maps and charts illustrate the various services rendered by the United States Government to its people. An unusual effect is obtained in the three-dimensional photos, one photo falling into another in such a manner that the fading figures seem to melt into those just appearing, and for an instant our picture is superimposed upon the other. Due to the incomplete state of the Fair it's practically impossible to be systematic in our coverage. But we'll defy you to be systematic in your observations if you were here. So if you will bear with us, we'll amble along happily until next week, too.

Last Friday afternoon a few of the town and district took on the school soft ball team. The other team won by 21-11.

The farmers are looking much more pleasant these days after the recent rains. This district recorded 1 1/2 inches.

In spite of the rainy weather on Sunday quite a few friends of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Atkens turned out at the heavier team to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. The Strathmore band was in attendance, and gave a number of selections, which sounded very nice in the open. After lunch Mr. Bremner on behalf of the community in a very able manner presented Mr. and Mrs. Atkens with a dozen teaspoons and one half dozen salad forks in the First Love pattern, and a pie casserole from the family. Mr. Perry on behalf of the band read an Alumni address (composed by himself) and presented Mr. and Mrs. Atkens with a lovely casserole in a silver stand. Mr. Atkens on behalf of himself and wife thanked all present for the lovely gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bremner and Ken Watts were home for the week end.

Miss Marie Lundsen spent last week end with Connie Bremner. Connie went back with Marie to spend a week at Didsbury.

Mr. Earle Baker was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Merkle and family, Sunday at Calgary.

Cheadle

Mrs. C. D. MacIae of Victoria is visiting with her mother Mrs. Kilron.

Due to the heavy but welcome rain the W. A. Meeting was postponed.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sackett upon the arrival of a baby girl.

The male half of the Cheadle community turned out in full force to plant two hundred trees around the school yard. This is a great improvement and the school board is to be congratulated.

The Ladies Club held their regular meeting last Thursday. Among other business they decided to have a dance June 30th to celebrate the beginning of the holidays.

Langdon

Mr. Stanley MacNeil and Miss Nora Atkinson of Carbon were visitors at the G. Buntin home from Thursday evening till Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Goodacre of Red Deer spent several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Drake last week.

The Women's Institute and the Ladies Aid were invited to spend the afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. McAdam last Wednesday. About thirty-five were present to enjoy the program and delicious refreshments.

IN THOUSANDS of Canadian homes, life insurance money pays the bills—helps to support widows and children—and provides for old age.

Life Insurance dollars buy the food for three square meals a day. They buy clothing and other necessities of life. They pay the rent and fuel bills to ensure warm, comfortable homes. They give children an education and a mother's care.

Each year, life insurance policy-owners and their beneficiaries in Canada receive 150 million dollars—five hundred thousand dollars every working day—twenty thousand dollars every hour.

And it is significant that more than 75% of all life insurance payments are made to living policyholders.

CLAIM NEW PLANT

EATS UP HOPPERS

Market Examiner

Fight against the grasshopper hordes in Alberta is gaining momentum. Some idea of the voracious appetite of these pests can be gathered from the fact that more than 51 car loads of sawdust went through the Deer recently as raw material for the increasing flow of poison bait. This was one of the largest shipments of sawdust ever loaded in the province and came from the districts around Chisholm north of Edmonton.

If facts bear any relation to the printed stories reaching the journals these days, grasshopper bait will be a thing of the past in the near future. Farmers show little signs as yet of taking the new threat to "hoppers" seriously, but large claims are being made for Darlington Chrysanthema, apparently a plant which had special training. Accounts state that to Darlington Chrys is something new, strange and fierce.

It is described as a meat-eating plant, suggesting a hooded cobra in appearance. It has an open mouth like aperture full of honey which attracts the "hoppers. These it consumes by the pound. Indeed, we are informed that there is no hope of the plant obtaining sufficient "hopper diet" to dull its appetite, and it is necessary to feed it sausage once a month to keep it alive.

The plants which are a new discovery in the Seattle botanical, are grown around the wheat fields and they eat up the "hoppers before they reach the tender young grain in the spring. Well, that is the story, and we wait to either hear more of the wonder plant or just forget it.

THE TRIUMPHAL TOUR OF THEIR MAJESTIES

"The Shouting and the Tumult dies
The Captains and the Kings depart."

—Rudyard Kipling

For the Province of Alberta and The West, the visit of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth is now a memory. However the visit of Their Majesties from coast to coast has created a greater interest, a more genuine enthusiasm, and a deep and abiding admiration and affection transcending the expectations of the promoters and officials of the tour, while it has proven to the Royal Couple beyond the shadow of a doubt, the unwavering loyalty of their Canadian Subjects.

It is just possible that Their Majesties may have had some feeling of doubt or trepidation on this point, as they crossed the water, as at times Canadian and Canadian conditions have not been pictured in too kindly terms, which did as an unwarranted injustice. However in this doubt, at any time extended, it has now been about stately dispelled, as they made their triumphal tour throughout the broad lands of the Dominion.

King George VI and Queen Elizabeth are eminently worthy of the affection they have engendered. Exemplifying in their own lives the highest standards of life, so dear to the British heart, they are worthy representatives of The Crown which is the symbol that binds together the component parts of the World's greatest Empire. Yet withal their high and responsible position, they are very fully imbued with a genuine feeling of sympathy that bespeaks the true dignity of the "Crown in spirit."

Coming to the throne under the distressing circumstances which thrust this high responsibility upon them, the king seems to realize all the more, the importance of faithfully discharging the duties that are his. He is able and constantly supported by Queen Elizabeth, whose charm has captured the hearts of all.

Apart from this delightful feature we admire her as a strong and courageous woman, who would brook no obstacles in the effort to help her husband overcome the impediment, and ill health from which he suffered—and by her constant encouragement has achieved success for which both may feel justly proud and grateful.

It is impossible to estimate the intangible benefit to Canada of the Royal Visit. One Edmonton gentleman described it as of the greatest national interest to Canada since Confederation.

That it will create one common bond of united loyalty that will supersede any petty differences is assured. The British West has freely admitted the unexpected warmth of the reception Their Majesties have everywhere received and the welcome which will be accorded them will be a notable one.

The Hope-Giving Rain

JUST at the most opportune time when the land and growing grain were in need of this precious moisture, and after Alberta had given her Sunny Skies for ten days of Their Majesties down came the rain, gently, continuously for periods covering three days, and the thirsty land and the growing crops are fully refreshed. As a result farmers and townfolks alike are gratefully smiling.

It is an anxious time, the eight or ten weeks that lie ahead for all in an agricultural community. Mother Nature can be very kind and beautiful and she can also be very cruel, devastating, and hope shattering. So much depends on the weather in a farming district. The Spring has been fairly kind—all will hope the same continuation will continue until the sheaves are garnered in.

3,000,000 BOY SCOUTS
IN THE WORLD

Figures so far received in a world census of Boy Scouts indicated a membership of over 3,000,000, notwithstanding the abolition of Scouting in Austria and sections of Czechoslovakia by Germany.

LOST PROPERTY OFFICE
SCOUT STYLE

Illustrating the response of Scout-age youth of all countries to the Boy Scout code of "Scout's Honor," Director Rufus Spooner, director of young people's work for the Salvation Army in Canada, recently told of the "Lost Property Office" at the great gathering of Scouts in England for the Coronation of King Edward VII, at which he was present as a member of the Canadian contingent. The "office" was simply a large table placed near the centre of the camp, without an attendant of any kind. Boys picking up the knives, cameras, watches, raincoats, pocketbooks, and what not inevitably mislaid or dropped by boys in a gathering of many thousands, brought and deposited them on the

RADIO OPINIONS AND NEWS
PUBLICITY DEPARTMENT

THE VOICE OF "GOOD MORNING NEIGHBOR"

That every person who hears every morning at nine-fifteen, and who greets you with Good Morning Neighbor, is that wielder of pen (Publicity Department) and voice, Frank Fleming. For almost a year and a half now he has been entertaining and advising his many, many Good Morning Neighbor, friends, with hints to the "Lovely Lady," his "Musical recipes," and his novel "Penny Stretchers."

"Perhaps the highlight of the whole last hour is the Musical Recipe. It is a novel way of giving a recipe, and yet it keeps the show going at top pitch all the way. Each ingredient is repeated musically, giving time to copy the recipe without the pause which makes you wonder if you should phone the station to see if it is still on the air. As far as cooking is concerned, Frank claims to know nothing about it, but you should see him wave a meat griddle and coffee-pot on a wavy road or in a field."

When it comes to the "Penny Stretchers," Mr. Fleming adds some of his own, as well as giving those in the script. They really are timely, and save money for that show or holiday, or at least give a chance for hushy to get something different on the weekly menu.

Naturally in a year and a half on the air, certain interesting incidents have occurred. Once, the program was going nicely when a naughty breeze blew Frank's script right off the stand in front of him, and he had to scribble on a full minute before a thoughtful member of the tech picked it up for him. Another time a vocalist got a little chest-nutted, and his introduction was played twice before the artist realized that the time had come. Since all radio programs are limited to two seconds, since P. M. P. and a worried few minutes trying to find a place to "cut." Again, in the middle of a musical selection, there was a sound like a pistol shot. For a moment the people at the station thought Frank had met a sad end, but it was only the snapping of an E string on a musician's violin. Somewhat of a precedent was set, when the whole show was stopped until a new string could be replaced and tuned.

The program is proving more popular day by day, and as one neighbor tells another neighbor "He sure to hear 'Good Morning Neighbor!'"

A Weighty Problem—
Pat Freeman, CFAC Production Manager, and special guest commentator for the CBC during the Royal Visit, has been reducing by means of bar-bells, trying to keep his weight within right of the 250 pound mark. The bar-bells turned up missing, and it was later found that Pat had lugged them all the way across the continent and back again. His poor, bell-hops, from coast to coast, who had to carry Pat's luggage!

Kitsilano Band Personal Appearance—
For the past few Sundays you have been hearing the grand music of the world famous Kitsilano Boys' Band, brought to you over the air waves via CFAC at three thirty in the afternoon. Now we have word that Band will make a personal appearance in Calgary June 16th and 17th.

The Kitsilano Boys Band of Vancouver, under the direction of Arthur Delamont has made several trips to Europe, and now they are embarking on another. The Band has won many honors for itself both in Canada and abroad, and has recorded band selections for phonograph recording companies in Great Britain and on this continent.

"Lost Property Table." Losers of articles sought the table, looked over the miscellaneous unguarded collection, and recovered their property. There was no record of a single item being removed from the table except by its rightful owner. A somewhat similar practice is in vogue at Canadian Scouters' training camps, "Scouts" and at Scout camps. The only "attendant" is a dish containing loose coins, from which Scout shoppers make their own change. It is a common experience at the end of a camp to find the "dish account" showing a small balance on the plus side.

league in town on Wednesday evening when the Carbon boys motored over for a game. Both teams show that it is near the first of the season and will need more practice and training, but the visitors had the long edge of the game for the entire game. In the 6th and 7th inning the home boys made a better showing and gained considerable but the final score remained 10 to 15 in favor of Carbon.

The Girls Softball game for the 14th of June with the Acme girls was rained out.

A well attended meeting of the Rockyford Ladies Aid Society was conducted at the home of Mrs. F. Chapman on Thursday, June 1st. Mrs. Bradwell the president was in the chair. After the business of the day and the discussion of many activities for the future, the Captains of the membership contest were called on to state their accomplishments. It was shown there were now 42 members, and Mrs. Danahoe who had the lower number kindly invited the winners to her home for Wednesday, June 7th when her side would do their best to entertain them in the manner befitting the occasion. At 10 o'clock Mrs. Chapman assisted by a few of the ladies served a very tasty lunch.

The district has been treated to one of the old time rains when it came down steady for hours with little relief. The last report was about two inches of rain and every indication it would continue at least over night. There was a slight frost in some spots last Wednesday and in the lower valleys the early potatoes and bedding plants were badly nipped.

Mr. George Muehlbauer who has been working on the Jasper Highway, had the misfortune to cut his foot quite badly. After spending a few days in the Banff Hospital he has been able to return home until his foot is recovered.
